A WOMAN DIED Monday and her companion suffered minor injuries when their foreign made pickup truck crossed the centerline on US 27 near the entrance to Talisman Sugar Corporation, veered back into the northbound lane, rolled, struck the guardrail and rolled again on the north bank of the road. Florida Highway Patrol Trooper James McGregor, shown investigating the site of the accident, and Trooper Danny Pursell, reported the victim was Doris Bird, 66, of Princeton. The driver, Walter Lewis Vassar, 69, also of Princeton, was treated at Glades General Hospital.

Students seen more realistic

BELLE GLADE-The Fourth Annual Career Day today at Glades Central may not only be the largest ever, according to coordinator Lisa Walker, it could represent a new trend in the thinking of students about what they want to do when they graduate.

Mrs. Walker said the morning's speakers will wind up a week of activities, including an appearance Wednesday by the Navy Rock Band. She said there will be some 70 professionals representing a wide spectrum of employment opportunities.

"One big change," Mrs. Walker said, "is in the number of students who listed professional athletes as their first choice of a career speaker. The first three years, there were more than 400 boys each year who listed that as their first preference. This year, there wasn't 200 and most of those were ninth graders. "I think they've learned something," she said. "They're beginning to realize how hard it can be to get into the glamour professions and they're setting more realistic goals."

As another example of that realism, she said that while more than 100 students have traditionally indicated an interest in becoming airline pilots, that number dropped this year to 69 while for the first time, more than 200 said they want to hear a truck driver speak.

"I guess truck driving is becoming the glamour profession of the blue collar workers," she said, "but there were more than 40 students who indicated they wanted to hear a bus driver today and a Tractor-Truck driver is going to schedule a special stop in Belle Glade because there just aren't any bus drivers who live here."

Mrs. Walker indicated many of the sexual roles are apparently breaking down too because there were a number of girls who indicated interest in the talks by the truck driver and a welder, as well as some boys who signed up to hear a beautician, Billy Santiago of South Bay, speak and do the hair of three models he's bringing with him.

She said other professionals who've agreed to speak include two disc jockeys for radio stations, two athletic coaches, a crop duster, a nurse, a nurse's aid, a model and a fashion merchandiser.

And while in the past, many girls interested in the business world indicated they'd like to hear "a secret," this year, more see Careers P9

West Tech ground is broken

BELLE GLADE - Ground was broken Wednesday morning for a $5.7 million vocational technical training center expected to provide training for Glades area students, both high school and adult, in 16 assorted disciplines.

The ceremony took place on the site of the West Tech Center at SR 715 and Hooker Highway, with dignitaries from the school board, headed by Superintendent Joseph Carroll, and the area on hand to take part.

The first shovel of muck was thrown by Carroll, architect Carroll Peacock and Glades Voc-Tech Advisory Committee co-chairmen Lee Berryhill and Marvin Unwin.

Unwin joined West Area Superintendent of Education H.W. "Dick" Berryhill and Palm Beach County School Director of Plant Planning Fred Hay in proclaiming the reality of the center is largely the work of Dr. Carroll.

"This is the third vocational center I've been involved in in this country," Dr. Hay said, "and this is the first one where I've seen the superintendent visit the site so many times to ramrod it through. I think it's a sign of the importance Dr. Carroll attaches to the center."

Carroll said he believes the center is the most important construction project in the county.

Hay said the center may be the last one to be built for quite some

Sen. Stone to talk to farmers

BELLE GLADE-U.S. Senator Richard Stone will be making a "working tour and fact-finding visit" of the Belle Glade-Pahokee area May 20 to find out more about the Glades' winter vegetable and sugar industry.

John Slink, a staff member in Stone's office, said details haven't been firmed up yet but the Senator will begin his Saturday tour in Pahokee, possibly at Vandergrift Farms.

With the five to ten people accompanying him, Stone is then expected to tour several farm facilities, including packing houses and sugar cane operations, moving south to wind up his visit with lunch in Belle Glade.

As chairman of the Foreign Agriculture Senate subcommittee, Slink said Stone has been interested for some time in the vegetable and sugar industry and has sponsored legislation to relieve low sugar prices.

He said the visit is being coordinated through the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association.

John Chamblee is honored by Jaycees

BELLE GLADE-Local grower John Chamblee has been named one of the Outstanding Young Men of America through a program endorsed and recognized by the U.S. Jaycees.

Chamblee, 36, and his brother James are owner-operators of Chamblee Farms, Inc., of Belle Glade and Tallahassee.

Chamblee Farms was established in 1928 by their father, Herbert, who worked for the county and began farming "on the side."

Herbert died in 1954 and the management of the farm passed on to the brothers' mother and uncle. Four years ago, they purchased the operation.

In the Glades, Chamblee Farm produces celery, sugarcane and leafy vegetables and near Tallahassee, the brothers own and operate a feedlot and cattle ranch.

By being selected as one of the Outstanding Young Men of America, Chamblee's work as a professional and his dedication to the community are being recognized.

The criteria for selection includes a man's voluntary service to the community, his leadership and academic achievement, business advancement, cultural accomplishments and civic and political participation.

He will be one of the men featured in an annual awards publication.

Chamblee was nominated for the honor by the Dean of Men of Delta State College in Mississippi, where he attended and played football.

He met his wife at Delta State, the former Joyce Faye King and the couple has two children, Kimberly Dawn and John David.

Chamblee serves on the board of Pioneer Growers, as chairman of the board of Christian Day School, and as a Deacon at the First Baptist Church of Belle Glade.

When not working on the 7,800 acre farming operation, he said he enjoys tennis and flying.

THE FIRST SHOVEL of muck at the West Tech Center was thrown Wednesday morning as a joint-effort by Glades Advisory Committee Co-chairmen Lee Berryhill and

The only way I'll get up at 3:02 in the morning is if (a) I'm going deer hunting or (b) I'm going fishing. To that, we'll have to add a (c) if the wife's ready to have a baby.

That was the case a week ago when Lilly shocked me awake and noted she felt her time was about due. She said I said "Well if you expect me to get excited and jump up and down I've not". If I did say that, I don't remember it.

Anyway, I got out of bed, got dressed and woke up son Burke while she was calling the babysitter to inform her she would have a house guest for the rest of the evening...or morning.

With Burke disposed of, we were off for Clewiston and Hendry General Hospital, where Burke was born and Lilly pre-registered.

I won't say I broke all the speed limits getting there, but I will say I could have used a trooper in front of me to announce I was on my way.

It turned out the haste was worthwhile. Thirty minutes or so into the hospital and we had another son, which we've budded Derek Lee. (actually, I wanted to name him Dirk but Lilly and her friends nixed that one fast.)

So now we've got two boys to poster their father. And I say "Enough's Enough!"

Two-year-old Burke thinks I'm made for playing "horsey" with him and so far, all Derek thinks I'm good for is keeping awake at night.

Maybe they're right. I certainly don't mind being the cow pony for a miniature rider nor do I entirely mind being kept up in the wee hours of the morning...much.

But I'm a life... And pass out the cigars, boys.

The birth of Derek also relieved me of a "double duty" situation I was looking forward to as much as doodling.

Last year, the folks in Glades County invited me to fish in the annual Thalitho Tunkit outdoor writer's flyfishing contest. But unfortunately, I couldn't. And I told them I would take a raincheck.

So this year they invited me again and I accepted...several months ago. Then I discovered I would be fishing on the date Lilly was "Due".

She said go anyway as she felt the baby would be early so luckily I have no choice but to be there.

Thalitho Tunkit is a contest designed to increase flyfishing as a sport on Lake Okeechobee. It was the brainchild of Harold DeTarr of Moore Haven and this year, 14 writers will be fishing for the 12th annual trophy.

The competition promises to be stiff. Among those who have won in the past are Jim Hardee of the Miami Herald, Herb Allen of the Tampa Tribune, Bill Miller of the Ft. Myers News-Press, and Charlie Harris of the St. Petersburg Times along with Vic Dunaway of Florida Sportsman.

Some of the local folks have benefited already from my invitation. I loaned out my flyrod equipment and found it was badly in need of an overhaul so a quick trip to a few of the local fishing stores and a $20 bill took care of most of the immediate costs.

Undoubtedly there will be some more to come.

So stay tuned. It's extremely doubtful I'll catch any great number of fish, but you can bet I'll have a good time and give you a full report on it.

One is enough

Oh what a rough and rocky road educational standards must travel these days to gain acceptance.

For years we've heard the plaintive cry, "Why can't Johnny read?" and the multitude of accusations about why children in general and specific groups of children in particular are being robbed of their chance for a decent education.

So the state legislature comes up with the idea of measuring the educational process that has taken place in 12 years of elementary and high school and the first time it's used, the functional literacy test is damned for the tool of unfeeling proctors.

Aside from the attacks by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the funky lit is on the target of bilingual education forces.

"We have recommended," a member of the state Task Force on Bilingual Education said recently, "That the functional literacy test being administered by schools all over Florida be given in their native language to students with limited English-speaking ability."

It's nice the task force members are concerned about students who are at a disadvantage when they take the test in English but from the reports we've been getting, the highest-scoring segment of the population has been oriental in national origin so apparently they haven't been having that much problem understanding the questions.

Besides, we've always been under the impression the thrust of education is to prepare children to take their place in society, not to moid society to suit the children... if that's really what all the flapdoodle is about.

Perhaps the task force might better spend their time and the state's resources teaching English to those children who don't understand it rather than translating the test into Spanish.

Unless, of course, the purpose of the bilingualists is to create a bilingual society in America... and that isn't the wisest possible course.

One of the most potent factors in creating a nation from a country, particularly a nation such as ours which has traditionally been a hodge podge of people from all sorts of national origins, is a single, unifying language.

We can only ignore that fact at our peril, as the Canadians have done. Bilingualism can all too easily, as we can see by looking at Quebec, become the thin wedge forcing the way for separation.

Besides, if we do the Spanish-speaking children of Florida, and they're obviously the other side of the bilingual education coin, how can we in good conscience ignore the other ethnic groups in our midst?

What about the Arabs? The Seminoles? The Hindustanis in the neighborhood and our new next door neighbor, that Serbo-Croatian family? Don't they have rights too?

We're making educators hard enough on our teachers as it is. We don't have to complicate the mess by requiring the school board to hire a Senegalese translator to give tests do we?

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

If people aren't talking about the weather after last week, they ain't never gonna talk about it, much less do anything about it.

Sure, I was griping a week ago Tuesday about how hot it was but, my Lord, nobody had to take me seriously enough to bring on tornadoes just to cool things off.

And, yeah, I was complaining right along with the rest of the people Saturday about that blistering sun but who called for seven and a half inches of rain?

I'll have to admit, though, that the only response I could come up with Saturday morning when a friend from Ohio called and informed me it was 40 degrees outside his window at the time, "Send us some."

With the thermometer hovering somewhere in the mid-90's and hotter in the sun, and the humidity a sopping 100 percent or thereabouts, I could've used some of that Ohio icebox style summer.

But those tornadoes were something else, particularly in light of the one later in the week that struck the school in Clearwater. And Don Tanner told me he wished he'd had a camera with him Tuesday afternoon. Said he'd've gotten me a picture for the front page that wouldn't have waited.

Don was noticeable by his absence at the South Bay City Commission meeting that didn't take place that Tuesday because there wasn't a quorum.

Seems Don was preoccupied though. Said he'd just gotten the last of some curtains up over his celery beds down south of South Bay (whatever curtains are when the twister showed up and put a tooth in the mud in the first place).

Don's celery cloud meandered all over the place like a woman in a department store sale before deciding it didn't want any more action than some cane fields and it'd leave his celery alone.

One thing about it, ol' Don oughta have something to talk about for the next few days. Maybe he'll even propose an ordinance outlawing twisters in South Bay.

Why not? The British outlawed green grass in Ireland a few years ago. I'd like to see Chief Cain try to put the handcuffs on a renegade drover though.

The weather did bring some good news Saturday up around Canal Point, though. At least the long-range effects were pretty good. Seein' the DOA, whatever it'll ever accept the responsibility for those Australian Pine booby traps along US98 will have 112 fewer trees to remove... always assuming they ever get started removing those monsters.

Maybe that's the answer to getting rid of the pines. Forget about calling Tallahassee. They don't get much done anyway. Just call Dial-A-Prayer and ask for some more wind and rain storms like we had this past weekend.

What the heck, if we can get the right connections, maybe we can put in an order for a couple smart twisters to follow the tree side of the roads around here.

Save a lot of cost if things work out right and the twisters just plain do the kindling wood and move it north where the damn Yankees can use 'em for fuel during the next coal strike next winter.

Now, that's what I'd call doing something about the weather. Don't stop what's usually called bad weather, just put it to use. Harness the next hurricane to washdown the highways and save the price of street sweepers.

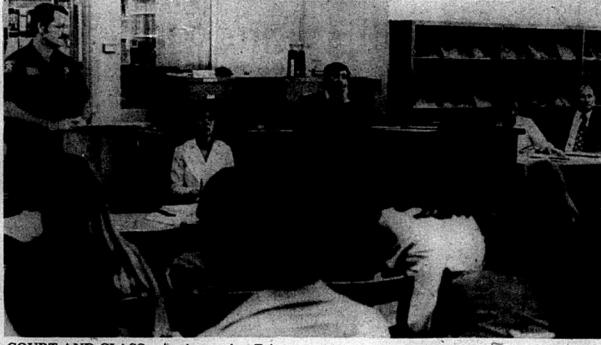

Then we could really get smart and send the northerners about 25 degrees of our 95 degree weather and everybody'd be a lot happier.

We could even arrange to ship some of that seven and a half inches of rain to Phoenix in exchange for a bit drier air.

But one thing we'd definitely have to watch. No matter how bad things get, we'd've put a stop to any ideas the northerners might have of shipping some of their blizzards. That kind of evening out don't need.

But speaking of evenings out, notice, prof, the smooth transition here? Looked like half of Belle Glade and three quarters of Pahokee made it over to the 48th Street at the Palm Beach Auditorium last Thursday.

By this time, I oughta be used to the idea of seeing so many Glades Country Music show put on but I guess I'm not.

COURT AND CLASS were in session Friday when County Judge Don Adams took his court to Glades Central. Deputy Sheriff Ted Keys offers evidence in the Fitzgerald case while Court Reporter Cathy Dodge, Adams, Deputy Court Clerk Barbara Milligan and Bailiff Logan Horne listen along with the class.

New subdivision plat approved

BELLE GLADE—A preliminary plat application for a new housing subdivision on SW 716 between Northwest Avenues B and D was approved by the City Commission during regular session Monday evening.

City Planner John Gubisch III told the commissioners R.O. Crosby of Pahokee, the owner of Crosco, Inc., had agreed to allow for open space in the proposed 4.66 acre Crosco Subdivision One.

The plot of land is zoned R-2 and Gubisch said approximately 16 single family residences are planned for the area.

Clark Tullos of Clewiston is the engineer for the project and Pedro Gonzales of Belle Glade supervises the area.

In another area, the commission agreed to open the Lake Clewiston Swimming Pool for business on May 20, the first time the pool has been open for two years because of major repairs which have just been completed.

The commissioners also agreed on a set of general rules and regulations for the pool, along with hours of operation and fees. The price for children under 17 will remain 50 cents and adults will be charged $1. Hours of operation will be from noon to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, along with 6 to 10 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday. Public hours will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sundays.

The pool will be available on Thursday evenings from 6 to 10 p.m. for pool parties at a cost of $20.

SPEDY program hires students

BELLE GLADE—Young people who want a summer job can apply between now and May 31 to SPEDY (Summer Program for Disadvantaged Youths), a program co-sponsored by Palm Beach County, the Florida State Employment Service and the Urban League.

Johnny Brown, director of CETA West offices at 425 S. Main St., said there are now 323 positions open in the Glades, including one program for summer employment and another in remedial classroom training for dropouts seeking remedial learning but he said he hopes more slots will become available.

Interested youths should either come to the CETA office or call 996-2330. When they come for their certification, youths should bring their Social Security card, Social Security numbers of wage earners in their families and parents or guardians if the applicant is under 18 years of age.

Applicants must be between 14 and 21 years of age and Brown said applications will be taken from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays until the registration process is complete.

Besides the SPEDY program, Brown said the CETA office is also involved in a training program for adult basic education and a training program in auto mechanics.

The vacation policy change also now allows employees to accumulate up to 20 days vacation time and allows two "floating holidays" the commission can give the employees during any given year.

Approved the application for fourth year Community Development Block Grant Hold Harmless and Small Cities funding. Community Development Director Remar Harvin said the city has received approval for a total of $1.7 million of CDBG and NDP surplus funds for the past three years and the application will cover the upcoming three year period with entitlement funds amounting to $442,000 over the next two years.

Rejected all bids on a lighting system for the four tennis courts at Lyon's Park when City Clerk June Boglioli explained the city's specifications weren't satisfactory.

Ratified a proclamation naming May as Fair Housing Month in the city.

Adopted on final reading an ordinance relating to the National Flood Insurance Program.

Courtroom goes to classroom

BELLE GLADE—Palm Beach County Judge Don Adams took his court to school last week but he was the one providing the education to more than 150 Glades Central students as part of Law Day activities.

The students, seniors enrolled in American Problems and Americanism versus Communism classes taught by David Campbell and Leo Danilevitz, watched as Judge Adams heard arguments by attorneys in two cases. The judge passed sentence in one of the cases and suppressed evidence in another.

Before opening court, Adams addressed the students, explaining what they were about to witness were actual cases, that the defendants had agreed to appear in the special session at the school and that he would occasionally interrupt the proceedings to explain what was happening.

In his first case, Adams heard arguments from Assistant State Attorney Clark Smith and Public Defender Frank Kreidler over whether Andrew Fontaine, 40, of 507 SW Sixth St., who pled guilty to uttering a forgery, should be sentenced to 2 1/2 or 3 1/4 years probation.

An integral part of Smith's argument for the longer sentence was Antoine's past record, which Adams explained to the students indicated Antoine was a "bad actor."

After polling the students on how they would pass sentence, Adams gave Antoine the shorter probationary period, saying he didn't have absolute faith in the "rap sheet" compiled on the defendant by the FBI, saying that he had "a good record" with student Preston Vicker, who commented the longer sentence might "cool" Antoine off.

In another case, Adams decided to suppress evidence after hearing testimony from Sheriff's Deputies Ted Keys and Dennis Maynor on how they arrested Clarence Fitzgerald, 23, of 480 Rardin Ave., Pahokee on charges of possession of marijuana, more than five grams.

The judge explained that Fitzgerald hadn't actually been tried, that what the students were witnessing was a hearing to determine if evidence could be used in the trial.

While the court was in session, Adams stopped the proceedings several times to answer questions asked by students, such as the one by Judy Huggins, who wanted to know why Kreidler was "haggling" Keys, Maynor and Smith.

The court session, something Adams has done several times in the past in several local schools, lasted from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m.

Hospital offers Johnson award

BELLE GLADE - A new contest for the V.M. Johnson Award began Monday at Glades General Hospital as part of an overall Palm Beach County Blood Bank activity.

Dr. Johnson, chief pathologist at Good Samaritan Hospital, is medical director for the community blood bank and its founder and the award winner will be the guest of the Blood Bank at its annual awards banquet to receive a winning trophy.

Participants in the contest must first recruit 15 new donors for the Blood Bank and the person who sets the largest number of first time donors over the 15 minimum will be the 1978 "Recruiter of the Year" winner.

For personal recruiter cards and more information, the public is encouraged to call the local branch at 996-6571 Tuesdays from noon until 8 p.m.

Rotary Club is urged to support charter for Palm Beach County

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade Rotary Club members were urged Tuesday to support the proposed charter for Palm Beach County.

Jerry B. Froct, executive director of the Charter Advisory Council, told the club the passage of the charter would "bring home rule back to the county" and eliminate the need for special legislation.

Only six of Florida's 67 counties now have a charter.

Froct backgrounded his talk by saying the county system of government was established hundreds of years ago in England and counties were set up to act as local agents for the king.

In the United States, counties do the same thing for the state, but over the years this has changed. Today, counties are called upon more and more often to provide municipal-type services to unincorporated areas.

Therefore, said Froct, the legislature agreed in the mid-1960s to allow counties to pass a charter which would allow them to have the type of county they wished.

"Without a charter," said Froct, "counties can only do what the legislature specifically allows them to. With one, they can do anything except what the legislature specifically tells them to do."

Froct said the present Charter Advisory Council was set up by the County Commission last spring and it in turn formed seven committees to solicit input into what the charter should be.

In the Glades, John Baker and Larry Tucker were appointed to the council.

Over 140 people worked through the seven committees to make recommendations to the council and these reports have been made and the Council hopes to submit its draft of the charter to the County Commission in June.

The Commissioners, in turn, have the power to delete or add to the proposed charter. They could then put it on the general ballot in November for a vote by the residents of Palm Beach County.

Froct said there are a lot of forms of charter government. "It is what you make it," he noted. The proposal for a charter for Palm Beach County is simple, he said.

Among the points covered by the charter would be no consolidation of any city with the county, the county administrative branch would be strengthened and streamlined, the present five-member county commission would be continued and candidates for the county commission would have to reside in his district for at least six months prior to filing, proposals on dual taxation, and a provision for review of the county every four years.

He said the charter will be 20-25 pages long.

In answering questions from the Rotarians, Froct said the Fair Tax Council which would be "municipally" oriented would be balanced by the county commission, which he said is "unincorporated" oriented and if problems arise here concerning tax proposals, those would be ironed out in court.

He said he didn't feel this would harm agricultural area taxation since under this system, "those who receive this service will be expected to pay for it" and agricultural land receives few county services.

All county and water districts would be exempt by state law from coming under the charter and all constitutional officers, such as sheriff and tax collector, would be left outside the charter. The vote on bringing the constitutional officers under the charter was close, said Froct, losing 6-5.

With the charter, a provision of recall of elected officers is possible, he said.

By retaining a five-member county commission, the Glades would not lose any of its representatives, the Rotarians were told. Neither would the districts be changed under the charter.

Froct wound up his talk by urging citizen support for the charter.

Pahokee girls win district, region

Pahokee's Pahokee Blue Devil Girls' Softball Team had no trouble coming out ahead Friday to win the District 13 Championship with a 15-2 defeat of Rosarian on Pahokee's home field.

All of Pahokee's hits were singles, Coach Gwen Davis said, with Carla Lott being the winning pitcher and Loretta Jones the catcher.

Rosarian scored one run in the top of the third inning and the second in the top of the fifth.

Pahokee stayed ahead of Rosarian throughout the game, scoring the first three runs in the bottom of the first. They brought ten runs in the third, one in the fourth and the final run in the sixth inning.

The girls weathered the rain to chalk up a District victory.

With the District win, Pahokee traveled to Ft. Myers Bishop Verot Tuesday, winning the Regional title. The score was 8-6.

Pahokee's girls go into sectional play tomorrow, 7:30 p.m. against Coral Shores High School in the Florida Keys.

The phosphate industry doesn't just conserve water. Now it's putting it back.

Florida's phosphate industry is one big user of Florida's water. And for years, it's been one of Florida's biggest conservers of water. With techniques that recycle fully 85% of what it uses.

Now the industry is going even further. With a recharge well system that actually returns water to the Floridian Aquifer.

With deep connector wells, millions of gallons a day are drawn from water-saturated sand near the surface, filtered, and fed into the Aquifer.

Eventually the recharge well system can help the phosphate industry arrive at its goal: equalizing water supply and water consumption. And can help make the growing of food, which requires the production of phosphate, easier to swallow for all Floridians.

Learn more about the recharge well system and other ways the phosphate industry helps us all. Write P.O. Box 5530, Lakeland, FL 33803.

8A—HERALD—OBSERVER, Thurs., May 11, 1978

BAROMETER for the FUTURE

Webster says that a barometer is an instrument measuring the weight or pressure of the atmosphere, foretelling and measuring changes of weather and altitude.

If God were to place a barometer on our lives, would we be cold, lukewarm, or on fire for the Lord. The past we can not change... the future is up to us.

"...what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all His ways, and to love Him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul." ATTEND CHURCH REGULARLY

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Hay said the school board, in the meantime, has already allocated another $33,000 for a child care center to go into the building. The child care center couldn't be authorized under the state funding.

Safety patrols visit Miami Seaquarium

Belle Glade—Approximately 40 Belle Glade Elementary School Safety-Patrols visited the Miami Seaquarium Friday, April 15.

Mr. James Spencer, Physical Education teacher and Safety Patrol sponsor at Belle Glade Elementary said the trip is the first in what is to become an annual affair for the fourth and fifth grade safety patrols.

"Fourth grade Safety Patrols have the chance to visit Washington, D.C. each year and the fourth and fifth grade have nothing to really look forward to," said Spencer.

fee for tapping into the sewerline already being charged by the city and if there is no stubout, that fee is $250.

The ordinance providing for the sewer development fee incorporates a rate system based on the number of an equivalent residential consumption (ERC) rate of 350 gallons per day and ranges from a low of $65 for a hotel or motel room or a nursing home bed to a high of $450 for a two inch line. Lines larger than two inches will be negotiated on an individual basis by the commission, based on the impact on the city's system.

Sanders said the city issued more than 200 building permits last year and, if the ordinances had been in effect then, the city would have a cushion of almost $70,000 to be used for future water and sewer system expansion.

The ordinances provide for a trust fund in which the fees will be deposited. The monies in the trust funds can be used only for expansion of the primary water and sewer systems.

The ordinances specifically forbid the use of the money for "improving, updating or bringing the present system into compliance with any change in laws brought about by reason of pollution control."

Formerly the Police Department sponsored a picnic annually but recently has been phased out, therefore we hope this annual trip to the Miami Seaquarium will give some incentive to the students to look forward to becoming a safety patrol in the fourth and fifth grades.

Bluegrass boosts MD

LAKE HARBOR—An estimated 1,200 music lovers came out Sunday to hear Texas Swing and Bluegrass music and contribute to the Muscular Dystrophy Association, Inc.

WSWN disc jockey Simon Train, who produced what may become the area's first series of annual bluegrass festivals, said approximately $2,000 had been raised and more donations were still coming in Tuesday after the local radio station had aired the festival in its entirety Sunday afternoon.

"For the first year," Train said, "and with the bad weather the day before, we thought the crowd was very good."

As the musicians played and called for donations to be deposited in a large fish tank in front of the flatbed trailer-cum-stage, volunteers wandered through the crowd on the grass with cups, asking for donations.

For those who forgot to pack a lunch or bring along something to cool themselves with, there was a concession stand offering hot dogs and soft drinks, with the profits going to MD.

The musicians providing the entertainment came from close to Clewiston, which provided Yammie Ledbetter, to Dallas and Fort Worth, Texas, the homes of Ronald Hughes and the Sons of the West and "Fiddlin' Dale Potter, the Texas Swing musicians who played in the style of Bob Wills. Other groups and individuals included Norman Wade of West Palm Beach, The Limited Edition of Fort Lauderdale, the Palm Beach County Ramblers of West Palm Beach, the Willow Creek Bluegrass of Delray Beach, the Newborn Grass of Delray Beach and Vickie Sellers of Moore Haven.

The music lasted for 5½ hours, running about 45 minutes past the 6 p.m. closing time set for the show because, Train said, of the response of the crowd.

Chamber Chatter

BELLE GLADE—Funeral services for Jonnie E. Christmas, 16, who died Saturday night in an automobile accident, were held Wednesday morning at Mixon Funeral Chapel with Brother Jimmy Sims officiating.

Mrs. Christmas was born in Talladega, Ala. and came to this area 10 years ago. She made her home at 1608 St. Ave. G Lot 3. She was the tenth grade at Gladens Central High School and worked part time at the Eagle Army & Navy Store in Belle Glade.

Burial of Port Mayaca Cemetery followed the funeral services. Mixon Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

The Board would also like for each business-person to pay his or her 1978, membership dues during this month in order for the Chamber to be able to count you as a paid member for this year. Remember, Chamber can not begin to function properly without the approval and support of the community that it serves.

The Chamber would like to ask the local citizens to listen to the local Radio Station (WSWN) and read the local newspapers to keep us more informed on the local happenings in our community. This is about the only way that we as interested citizens can know what is happening or about to happen in our community. Thank you.

The following is a quote from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce: "Looking back can be a happy pastime...Happy that is, is emphasis on the successes rather than the failures...Unfortunately, we glory in success to such an extent that we tend to ignore, or forget, how much we could learn by reviewing our failures...and what caused them".

Your Chamber of Commerce has had its share of both...Take joy from success, take lessons from failure and do all you can to keep history from repeating itself...Look ahead to 1978, it can be a great year...So until next time...God Bless.

Music Master visits school

BELLE GLADE—Members of the Glades Central High School Choral had a chance to work under a nationally recognized authority on music education last week when Dr. Wendell Whalum, the last of a series of National Humanities Faculty visitors came to the local school.

Dr. Whalum is currently the chairman of the department of music at Morehouse College in Atlanta, Ga. and has been the recipient of numerous awards. He has often been called on to lecture and conduct at colleges and universities throughout the world. He spent the first day of his visit in a workshop session with teachers from Lake Shore Middle School discussing the value of music and art in the public school classroom.

Late Wednesday, and all day Thursday, Dr. Whalum worked with the various choral groups at Glades Central High in a teaching situation. Late Thursday afternoon, he conducted the Glades Central Mixed Chorus in concert at Lake Shore Middle School.

National Humanities Faculty members have been visiting the schools in Belle Glade over the past three years under a grant from Quaker Oats Company and the National Endowment for the Humanities. The object of the program has been to improve instruction at the classroom level with particular emphasis on the Humanities.

Blue Devils win district meet

PAHOKEE—With a 138½ point pickup Friday in Clewiston, Pahokee High's boy's track team brought home another District trophy, moving on to the state track meet in Winter Park tomorrow at Shuler Field.

It won't be Pahokee's first trip to the State meet, having won the state championship for the last two years, coming in third the year prior to that due to two disqualified runners.

Clewiston followed Pahokee in the scoring with 74 points, St. Cloud with 73 and John Carroll with 48.

Coach Antoine Russel will send 12 boys to the state meet.

In District competition, Leonard Jones won the 100 with a time of 9.9 and the 220 yard dash with a time of 22.9. Stanford Everett placed first in the 440 and 51.0 with Joe Brown following for second place. Coach Russel said Brown fell down during the run but got up to cross the line for the second place spot.

The Blue Devil mile relay team, composed of Albert Gray, Osmond Edwards, Joseph Brown and Stanford Everett came in first. Ronnie Osborne placed second in the 220. Willie Henderson placed third in the two mile run and Tony Forde second in the mile with a time of 4.37.

In the 120 high hurdles, George Collins won with a 15.3 run and Sylvester Kelley came in second in 15.5 seconds.

In the field events, Osmond Edwards won the long jump at 21'6", Marcus Manuel won the high jump at 6'1" and George Collins placed second in the long jump. Lonnie Pendergrass and Mike O'Neal placed fourth and fifth respectively in the shotput.

Approximately 110 schools will be represented at the Winter Park State meet but Coach Russel singles out Hamilton County as the one team Pahokee will have to beat.

The Blue Devil team is a young team with only two seniors, Joe Brown and Marcus Manuel. The others are sophomores and juniors. Because of the fact Coach Russel expressed surprise at how well the team has done. "I gave myself an off year this year," he said. "I figured next year would be our year."

Coach Russel said Pahokee has a lot of individual skills but the strength of a young team is not as great as that of more experienced boys. "We're gonna give it our best shot though," he stated, hoping to get the help of other teams to knock his opponents out of the competition.

PAHOKEE HIGH'S Stafford Everett put on the speed to end the 440 relay during the boy's district track meet in Clewiston over the weekend. Tired would describe Everett but winning would describe Pahokee's district-championship team.

People have believed that small gems left in the ground would grow.

Glades Day wins district series advances into regional games

BELLE GLADE-The Glades Day Gators won the district championship in baseball last week and Tuesday, played Kings Academy for the region.

Coach Tom King said if the Gators won their Tuesday game, they would host the winner of the Tampa-St. Pete game Friday.

Last Wednesday, the Gators slipped ahead of Moore Haven 7-3 with Sammy Duda the winning pitcher, striking out six in the two hits.

Kenny Buckner and Steve Richie both got homers, but it was Elmer Miller who doubled in the winning run. Miller racked up two runs batted in during the game.

The Terriers were ahead and scared the Gators by staying there until the bottom of the sixth, when the local team got five runs. Miller doubled with two outs to drive home the Gators.

Thursday, the Gators whipped Indian River 17-5 in a five-inning game with Mark Foster the winning pitcher. Foster pitched a three-hitter and struck out seven.

Richie was the leading hitter, going three for three at the plate including two doubles and six RBIs.

Indian River walked 17 Gators during the game and Glades Day benefited by having five runners walk in.

Howard Ayres was the next top hitter, getting a double.

Friday, the Gators squeaked by Jupiter Christian 5-4, going ahead in the first inning 2-0 when Buckner and Pedro Rodriguez singled in runs.

Jupiter caught up and passed the Gators in the fourth on three errors, three hits, and four walks to advance them 4-2 but in the bottom of the fifth, Miller walked and Quique Echave singled, then Steve Richie tripled and Jose Cano drove him in on a single to lock the Gators into the lead.

Tommy Duda was the winning pitcher, giving up three hits but striking out five. Richie went two for two at the plate and two RBIs to lead the team in batting.

Tuesday, the Gators were to play Kings for the regionals at 4 p.m. at Kings. During the regular season, Glades Day beat Kings twice, 4-2 and 12-1 but Coach King noted the basketball team grew overly confident in facing Kings and lost the region.

Starting pitcher against Kings was to be Mark Foster and Tommy Duda will start in the Friday game if the Gators win Tuesday.

Lassie League play begins with over 70 girls participating

By Karen Hansford

Belle Glade Softball came up with its own version of baseball and hot dogs last Saturday when the Glades Lassie League supplied its 10-odd softball players with fried chicken, baked beans, potato chips and cokes to go along with the day's schedule of games at the Duncen ballpark, owned by the Apostolic Church of Jesus Christ on West Canal Street South.

The Lassie League, in its third year of existence, is a slowpitch softball program for girls ages 9-14. Expanded to five teams this year, they are A. Duda & Sons, Royals, Nu Kappa Sorority, People's Federal Savings & Loan Association (new), and Everglades Farm Equipment (new).

The season officially began on Tuesday, May 2, but three of the week's four games were rained out and had to be rescheduled for the following Saturday.

The team of Royals has two wins tucked under its belt after action-packed victories over Everglades Farm Equipment, and Nu Kappa.

Lourdes Cano and Glenda Chavis were the leading hitters, each with three singles, in the girls' win over E.F.E. in seven innings of play. E.F.E. had taken the lead in the first inning with four runs to one, but lost it in the third when Royals came back with five runs, one of them a home run by Lori Marshino.

It was touch and go for the next three innings as E.F.E. evened the score after five, and both teams were held scoreless in the sixth inning. Holly Miller had knocked in a home run after Ivette Garcia's double to help the E.F.E. offense.

Royals broke the tie in the seventh when Jamie Willis and Paula Cano had the play to lead off. E.F.E. threatened in the bottom of the ninth with runners on first and second, but was left stranded as pitcher Sheila Lashley struck a batter out and then Ivette Garcia popped up to third baseman Glenda Chavis for the final out, leaving the score 11-9.

A. Duda & Sons and Nu Kappa were up with the birds Saturday morning in preparation for their 9 a.m. game. Duda took an early lead with seven runs to Nu Kappa's one in the first inning. Rhonda Bradley whacked a two-base hit for one of Nu Kappa's runs.

Pitching problems helped the Duda batters to round the bases in the next inning, with 12 runs crossing the plate. The Duda defense had few problems, retiring the side with runners left on second and third bases for no score.

Luly Blanchard lined a two-bagger into right field as Duda added another three runs in the top of the third. Nu Kappa came back with two as Melanie Swager had a double into center field and then scored on Yvonne Bowles' single. The game ended with a 22-4 score, in favor of A. Duda & Sons.

The second game saw Everglades Farm Equipment gain its first win of the year in an 11-3 trouncing of People's Federal.

E.F.E. played well on defense, allowing no runs by People's Federal until the third inning, when Raven Tricias, Cissy Runkles and Michelle Peaden each rapped out singles, causing two runs to come in.

Meanwhile, E.F.E. had jumped out to five runs in the first, three in the second and one on the third to hold a 10-2 lead. Susie Rives got her first double of the season in the second inning.

The players of People's Federal settled down on defense but could not get the offense going as both teams added only one run in the fifth inning for a final score of 11-3, the game being called because of the time limit.

There was a break between the second and third games as the players, coaches and officials settled down to a meal of fried chicken and other goodies supplied to the league. The Rev. J.P. Feld of the Apostolic Church of Jesus Christ spoke the invocation for the feast and then treated the league to some group singing.

The third and final game was a match between Royals and Nu Kappa Sorority. The first game jitters brushed aside, both teams played with relatively few fielding errors.

Royals Lourdes Cano scored the game's only run in the first two innings before the offense shifted into gear in the third, taking advantage of three walks for four runs to lead by five.

Nu Kappa retaliated with three runs in the top of the fourth when Stephenie Miller, Amy Creech and Mimi Warren crossed the plate. Royals added one on the bottom to make it six to three.

The fifth inning held scoreless, then the gold-clad girls of Nu Kappa pushed another run around in the sixth inning to edge within two runs. Fate was against them, however, as thunder clouds began rolling across the skies and lightning streaked through the air, causing the game to be called and the score of 6-4 upheld as the final, giving Royals its second triumph.

Future Lassie League games will be held at the same ballpark on Tuesday and Thursday evenings through June 20. The first game begins at 4:45 p.m. and a time limit of one hour and 25 minutes is imposed, the exception being that at least five of the seven innings must be completed.

The Lassie League would like to express its appreciation to Terry Stelle and Howell Gandy for their help in umpiring Saturday's games and a special thank you to the Reverend Feld and the Apostolic Church of Jesus Christ for the use of the ballpark.

Gators schedule jamboree

Belle Glade—Glades Day football fans will get a preview of the fall season Thursday, May 25 in a Jamboree that will be hosted by the local school.

But if they want an even earlier preview, they can come to the "under the lights" scrimmage May 18 at 7:00 p.m. at the Glades Day campus.

Coach Byron Walker said Lake Placid, Moore Haven, and LaBelle have accepted the jamboree invitation and the first quarter will put LaBelle against Lake Placid.

In the next quarter, Glades Day will take on Moore Haven and in the third, Lake Placid and Moore Haven will tangle. Wrapping up the action in the fourth quarter will be Glades Day and LaBelle.

Walker noted he has 16 starters from last year returning and the quarter "question" will be the quarterback position. Right now, Nacho Bueno, who played quarterback for the Gator JV last year, Jason Shelton, and Quique Echave are all being eyed for the position.

Last year's "backup" quarterback, Sammy Duda, will not be returning as he and his family are moving from Belle Glade.

"We're looking now for a center and linebackers," said Walker, "but the rest of the team is composed of experienced veterans backed by good junior players from last year."

As examples, Walker pointed out the whole defense is about the same. Running backs should be strong with Echave, Steve Richie, Winston Bryan, Donnie Coursan and several JV's holding down the fort.

"We've got a lot of talent," said Walker, "now we're looking for improvements. We want to try and get 10 good games out of the team instead of the on-again, off-again offense we had last year."

Chers caught using this channel for other than emergency transmissions will be subject to a $50 fine.

The Coast Guard monitors this channel.

Despite offensive mistakes, the Gators wrapped up last year's season 8-3, losing in double overtime to Miami Palmer for the region.

Auxiliary urges safe boating

Belle Glade—The Glades Coast Guard Auxiliary will be celebrating safe boating week beginning Saturday, May 20. It is asking local boaters to do the same.

Last year, the Auxiliary saved the lives of 932 people nationwide and salvaged an estimated total of $13.5 million in boats and equipment.

The Auxiliary, a voluntary organization, now contains 47,000 members in the United States and the local chapter is actively seeking new membership.

In addition to lives and equipment saved, the Auxiliary carried out 38,783 safety and regatta patrols and performed 25,886 support missions, rendering service to 19,137 boaters in distress.

The local chapter also noted the Federal Communications Commission will be "cracking down" on CBers using the emergency Channel 9.

Chers caught using this channel for other than emergency transmissions will be subject to a $50 fine.

The Coast Guard monitors this channel.

Pilots qualify for Civil Air Patrol

BELLE GLADE—The Glades Senior Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol certified its first five pilots last Sunday.

Ken Lutz, Charles Trammel, Fernando Llorens, D.E. Wallis and Joe Hughes passed their initial check flights given by Lt. Col. Robert Croft, Florida Wing Administrative Officer.

Each new squadron pilot must hold a valid Private Pilot License, have a minimum of 100 hours as pilot-in-command, and have completed a Red Cross First Aid Course within the preceding three years.

Squadron Commander Lt. Col. Doug Wooten appointed Senior Member Ken Lutz as operations officer. Ken is qualified to pilot single and multiengine fixed wing aircraft and helicopters. He holds a commercial-pilots license.

Lt. Col. Wooten said that the next major step in making his squadron self-sufficient would be to install a radio system, newly-refurbished support trailers, and the procurement of an airplane.

The Glades Squadron is looking for new members. The only requirement is an interest in aviation and a willingness to work. For further information call Doug Wooten 996-7606 or talk to a member.

Hospital accredited by JCAH

"Glades General Hospital received notification last week that we have again been accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals for the maximum period of two years", Ben Clarke, Administrator, has announced "and naturally we are all highly pleased that our efforts have again been rewarded with this honor".

Accreditation indicates that a facility has voluntary requested a survey and chosen to operate according to rather rigid standards set by JCAH.

Clarke pointed out that of the approximately 7150 hospitals in the U.S., only 4800 general hospitals throughout the country have earned this recognition.

"Accreditation means the physical plant is surveyed for fire safety and patient protection as well as certain construction requirements; it means that certain principles of organization and management are being applied for the effective and efficient rendering of care and services; it means that departments such as nursing, dietary, laboratory, radiology, emergency, etc. are meeting the needs of our patients; it means there is a medical staff which is responsible for the care given the patient; and it means this hospital has responded to its obligation of accountability to the community for providing the best possible care and services consistent with the size service area," Clarke continued.

Clarke concluded by saying that the local medical staff has continuously accredited by the JCAH since April, 1966 and he thanked all employees and members of the medical staff which made that feat possible.

Devil baseball ends at tourney

Pahokee—An 8-4 loss to Bishop Verot in the District baseball tournament at home Thursday ended Pahokee High's baseball season with a 7-16, 14-loss record.

Bishop Verot went on to win the District Class A title with a 19-2 record.

Rain brought a halt to the Thursday game for approximately an hour at the bottom of the fourth inning with Pahokee behind 4-0. As play resumed, Pahokee's Larry Wiley knocked three Devils in on a triple with bases loaded in the sixth inning.

Pahokee's other run was scored in the third inning on a wild pitch. Pahokee baseball Coach Sam Jones said. Pitcher Carlton Boone struck out five Bishop Verot players while the opponents' pitcher struck out 14.

The Devils will lose three seniors from the team: Carlton Boone, Darryl Douglas and Steve Kemp. Last year's team went 3 and 24, seeing a noticeable improvement in '78. "They're going to get better every year," Coach Jones concluded.

History repeats itself with Bryant Bowlers

Pahokee—The Bryant II bowling team, sponsored by United States Sugar Corporation, is proud of two accomplishments this year. They are the 1978 Lake League bowling champions and they beat the Bryant I bowling team, also sponsored by U.S. Sugar.

In both instances, it was a case of history repeating itself. For the Bryant II team won the Lake League championship in 1975 and defeated Bryant I during the same year also. However, the pin margin increased greatly in three years. In 1975, Bryant II defeated I by only seven pins while in 1978, the margin jumped up to 71 pins.

Teams in the Lake League competed at Triangle Bowling Lanes in Belle Glade.

AND THEN THE RAIN CAME. Pahokee High girl's softball coach Gwen Davis came prepared to the Blue Devil baseball game Thursday, peering at the action from beneath an umbrella. Wrestling coach Bill Allen braved the sprinkling drops along with other spectators. Rain preempted play for approximately an hour before the Devils fell to Bishop Verot 8-4.

MOTHER NATURE NEVER BUILT OIL LIKE THIS

CONVOY motor oil is built to protect your engine 100% longer or a one-year drain interval. CONVOY can promise that—and back it up—because of its balanced blend of natural petroleum and synthetics. A blend that outperforms mother nature's own, at a price much lower than the synthetic competition.

The exclusive CONVOY formula contains the right friction modifier, moly. This gives CONVOY greater film strength, so your engine is better protected, better lubricated. Because a better lubricated engine runs more efficiently, CONVOY can actually increase your gas mileage by as much as 8%.

When you use CONVOY we build extra strength into every ounce. Extra strength to guard against oxidation and corrosion to prevent sludge deposits. To protect your engine better, longer, CONVOY is the better oil, just ask mother nature.

Raider girls place sixth at state meet

WINTER PARK—The Glades Central Girls' track team earned 16 1/3 points Saturday to place sixth in the state at the state meet here, with Rosa Wilkerson placing second in two contests and assisting in a third place.

Coach Jay Seider said Miss Wilkerson broke her own best distance in the discus by ten feet when she hurled the disc 124'3", eight feet better than the old state record of 116 feet but still fell behind the winning mark of 129 feet.

"It was a good day for the discus," Seider said. "The air was still and heavy and they could really get a good plane if the attitude was right."

Miss Wilkerson also scored second place in the 440 run with a time of 58.9 seconds and anchored the 880 yard medley team in a third place finish with a time of 1:53.4. The other members of the relay team were Janice Wright, Judy White and Marletha Pevey. Miss Wright tied for sixth place in the high jump with a 5'0" effort to pick up the third of a point. Seider said the jump wasn't as high as others Miss Wright has made this year but explained she had to leave the high jump after several efforts to take part in the 880 relay run.

"The rain probably didn't help either," he said. "The customs were soaked and the girls were too."

Seider said the Raiders missed out on making points in the 880 relay by one tenth of a second. The team finished in 1:48.9.
